Rapidly Respond to Business Needs

Why Use SharePoint 2010? The capabilities of SharePoint 2010 work together to help your company quickly respond to changing business needs. Using SharePoint 2010, your people can share ideas and expertise, create custom solutions for specific needs, and find the right business information to make better decisions.

Visual Studio 2010 includes 14 project templates for SharePoint development. It also includes visual Web Part and packaging designers, and connects with Team Foundation Server for Application Lifecycle Management (ALM).

With SharePoint Designer 2010, you can configure SharePoint sites, create list schema, add design elements, and build workflow models. What's more, SharePoint Designer and Visual Studio work well together: You can use Visual Studio-based workflow activities in SharePoint Designer, and you can export sites from SharePoint Designer to Visual Studio.

Benefits of Accelerated Certification Training

Due to the fast changing IT scenario, companies need to ensure that their employees go through quality training that provides up-to-date knowledge, skills, and practical hands-on experience in a limited time frame. Also, most developers have realized the importance of possessing a professional IT certification; but, it is not always preferable these days to get trained in the orthodox way, because time is a major constraint for both individuals and companies. The less-expensive eLearning or self-study options make a compromise on the hands-on practical aspects of training.

Considering time and budget constraints, one of the most cost effective training solutions available today is Accelerated Training. Our programs are all about teaching specific skills, tools or technologies over a limited time span in a zero-distraction environment; live feedback from instructors about test questions, topics, problem-solving skills, comprehensive certification information and access to the latest systems and servers adds value and measurable accomplishment to the training experience.
